NYSRA Richard L. Allington Research Grant

Deadline May 31

Contact: NYSRA Professional Awards Chairperson
NYSRAawards@gmail.com

Goals:

- To encourage the development of research projects about the areas of reading, writing, speaking, and/or listening at levels K – 12.
- To showcase the present winner of the Allington Research Grant at the New York State Reading Association Annual Conference.

Grant Overview and Guidelines:

This award commemorates Dr. Richard L. Allington's many years of service to NYSRA, New York State educators, and the SUNY Albany community, where he is a professor emeritus. An internationally known researcher and scholar, Dr. Allington's research, publications, and advocacy have explored effective literacy instruction for all children and the influences of educational policy on educational practice.

The purpose of the Richard L. Allington Research Grant is to support research that investigates effective literacy instruction for all children or the influences of educational policy on educational practice (specifically pertaining to literacy).

NYSRA will award a total of $500 to one or more proposals which best:

1. Exemplify the grant criteria. (40 points) Projects will focus on effective literacy instruction and/or educational policy.
2. Present well defined and organized research which integrates literacy theories, policies, research, and practice. (40 points) Proposals will be well informed by current theories, policies, and research methods, will be realistic and feasibly completed with the proposed timeline and budget, and be educationally significant.
3. Present the research project with clear, well organized, academic English and APA style. (20 points).

To be eligible, you must:

- Present documentation of current membership in a local NYSRA council (letter written by council president or membership chairperson).
- Be currently or formerly employed as a New York State K-12 educator (classroom teacher, reading teacher, special area teacher, librarian, resource teacher, Title I teacher) full-time or permanent half-time or a faculty member of a New York State college or university (in a literacy education or related capacity).
- If your research will involve members of a school community, receive written consent from an appropriate school administrator, acknowledging district approval of your study (on front of proposal cover sheet). You and any co-researchers are solely responsible for meeting any district/college/university mandated project approval procedures.
- Receive written consent from all co-researchers (on back of proposal cover sheet).
- Agree to complete the study and disseminate findings to the wider education community as well as presenting findings to the award committee and at the NYSRA conference.

Deadline: Proposals must be digitally submitted by May 31. Award will be presented at the NYSRA Annual Conference.

Review Process: Members of the award committee will evaluate proposals using the established criteria. Proposals will be reviewed and an award winner notified by September.

Application Procedures: Your completed application package must contain following documentation. (Please note that incomplete and/or late applications will not be reviewed):

- Proposal Cover Sheet
- Title and Summary sheet
- Description of the Research
- Completion/Dissemination/Final Report agreement sheet
- Budget
- Proof of current local NYSRA council membership (letter from council president or membership chairperson)

Proposal Cover Sheet: Complete all items on the cover sheet at the end of this packet. Be sure that the primary researcher, school administrator, and any co-researchers sign this sheet. Proposals without all signatures will not be reviewed. Do not write in the space at the top of the cover sheet.

Title and Summary: On this page, include the title, exactly as it appears on the cover sheet and a summary of your research (100 words maximum). Do not include any information that would identify your school district or any person connected with your project. You may use pseudonyms or terms such as “the researchers’ or “the third grade classroom.”

Description of the Inquiry: This section should not exceed seven double-spaced pages (12-point font, 1-inch margins). This section of the proposal is divided into five components:

- 1) Project Rationale: Provide a purpose and background for your research. You should address the following:
 - a. Specific question(s)/issue(s) you will address through this research (limit to 2)
 - b. How and why is this question(s)/issue(s) important to you?
 - c. How is this question(s) informed by your review of the professional literature? What literature is guiding your research?
- 2) Methods: Describe the method(s) you will employ to guide your research. You should address the following:
 - a. What types of data (i.e., documents, observations, video/audio recordings, journal entries) will you collect and how will you gather them?
 - b. How will you analyze your data? What possible ways might you look at and organize your data in ways that will inform research, theory, and practice?
 - c. How will your project be reviewed by participating institutions to ensure the rights of all participants? (i.e. Institutional Review board or other agencies)
 - d. If you are working with co-researchers, explain how you will collaborate in gathering and analyzing your data.
- 3) Expected Significance/Contributions to the Literacy Field: Describe how and why you believe your research is important to the literacy field. You should address the following.

- a. Explain how and why your inquiry will inform people about effective literacy instruction for all children and/or the influences of educational policy on educational practice.
- 4) Dissemination: Describe how you will share your findings with school and NSYRA colleagues (i.e., presentation at professional conference like NYSRA, workshops, journal articles). Be specific.
- 5) Project Timeline: Create a calendar indicating how you expect your project to proceed, from start to finish. For example, list dates for data collection, data analysis, and information reporting/sharing.

Completion/Dissemination/Final Report Agreement Sheet:

Review and sign the agreements on the sheet at the end of this packet. By signing, you agree to complete the proposed project, to disseminate your findings to colleagues, and to compose and submit a final report to NYSRA Awards Committee.

Guidelines for the Final Report: Report your findings and educational significance of your research as well as your plans for dissemination of the research. The report should be 2-3 double-spaced pages (1-inch margins). In the event that there are any unused grant funds, include a check for this amount and a written explanation. Be sure to include the names of all project researchers and project title. Email a copy of the report to NYSRA within one year of your award date.

Budget: NYSRA has budgeted a total of $500 for this grant. Depending on the number and quality of applications reviewed, one $500 grant or several smaller grants may be awarded. Therefore, while you may request up to $500, please be aware that you may only receive a portion of this amount if your proposal is accepted. Grant funds may be used for costs directly related to your research. Create and submit a table detailing your expected expenses in the following categories:

- Personnel: Release time (i.e., substitute teachers), assistants/support persons (i.e. clerical support, student helpers). The primary researcher or co-researchers may not compensate themselves.
- Materials/Office Supplies: Paper, photocopying, audio/video tapes, equipment rental fees, computer software, books.
- Travel: Expenses directly related to data collection, analysis, and dissemination, such as auto mileage, bus fare, etc. You may request up to $200 of the $500 to cover travel directly related to research dissemination (i.e. conference registration, auto/bus/plane tickets).
- Other: Itemize these expenses and include specific explanations of how these expenses directly support your research.
- Other funding sources: If you are applying or expect to apply to additional sources for funding (i.e. school district, professional organizations, etc.), list these sources, the funds expected, and expenses you expect these funds to cover (i.e. school-provided materials).

Proof of Current Local NYSRA Council membership: The primary researcher must be a current member of a local NYSRA affiliated council. Include a letter from the local council president or membership chairperson to document membership.

The Award committee will notify you by email: 1) when your proposal has been received, and 2) with its decision regarding your proposed project.

NYSRA Charlotte Award

Deadline: April 15

Awarded in even-numbered years

Contact: NYSRA Professional Awards Chairperson
NYSRAawards@gmail.com

Named for the main character in E.B. White’s Charlotte’s Web, the purpose of the Charlotte Award is to encourage students to read outstanding literature and ultimately become life-long readers. Additionally, the award recognizes the authors and illustrators of such literature. Students in New York State read titles on the ballot and vote for their favorites. Votes will be tallied and winners will receive their awards at the Annual Statewide Conference in the upcoming year.

VOTING REQUIREMENTS:

- Students may read the books themselves, or have the books read to them to become qualified voters.
- Students are encouraged to read all titles in a category, but it is not a requirement.
- Students may read books in more than one category.
- Each reader is entitled to one vote in one or more categories.
- An adult in a classroom or library setting must monitor voting procedures, and should submit one ballot from each participating classroom or library.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CHARLOTTE AWARD PARTICIPATION:

- Visit the website, www.nysreading.org; for a ballot and brief plot summaries of each title: primary, intermediate, young adult
- Use the books in your school’s “morning program”
- Display the books in a special spot in the library; tally votes on a display chart
- Start a “Charlotte Award Club” for students
- Ask your parent organization to help purchase the books
- Use the titles in your PARP program
- Have older students read aloud to younger ones
- Create a “Charlotte Award” shelf in the library with past winners (see NYSRA’s website)

Deadline May 31

Contact: NYSRA Professional Awards Chairperson
NYSRAawards@gmail.com

Goals:

- To recognize an organization, institution or individual having made a significant contribution to the New York State literacy effort.
- To encourage all literacy advocates and intend that eligibility to receive the award be open to all segments of the state – and not just to those who hold membership in the organization.

Guidelines:

1. Complete cover sheet.
2. Submit a clearly written and prepared letter detailing why the nominee deserves this recognition and which answers the question: “How does this nominee advocate literacy above and beyond his or her position?”
3. Digitally submit the cover sheet and supporting letter by the deadline.

Criteria:

The Literacy Advocate Award nominee:

- Demonstrates leadership and superiority through the nature of his or her work
- Makes significant contributions to literacy through media, publications, research, presentations and /or legislation
- Contributes work that has breadth, depth, and far-reaching influence

International Literacy Association Honor Council

Deadline: December 15

For information and application: <https://literacyworldwide.org/about-us/awards-grants>

Goal: This award, given annually by the International Literacy Association, recognizes local and special interest councils that organize and conduct well-rounded programs serving the council members, the community, the state association, and the International Literacy Association.

Guidelines: Only electronic submissions will be accepted. Please contact customerservice@reading.org for assistance with your award submission. Councils are being recognized for accomplishments of the previous year. Attach one document for each part (I–IV) that summarizes the essential elements of each activity. Increase Council membership (I) has changed from required criteria to optional criteria. Submit application online: <http://fs6.formsite.com/intntlreading/form59/index.html>

International Literacy Association Exemplary Reading Program Award

Deadline: November 28

For information and application: <https://literacyworldwide.org/about-us/awards-grants/exemplary-reading-award>

The Exemplary Reading Program Award recognizes outstanding reading and language arts programs at all grade levels (elementary, middle, and high school). Its purpose is to call the public's attention to outstanding programs in schools throughout Canada and the United States. Each participating state and provincial council, with an active ERPA committee chair, may choose one winning school a year.

All public, private, charter, and parochial schools in the United States and Canada are eligible for the award provided.

The state or province in which the school is located has an Exemplary Reading Program Award Committee currently in place to judge program applications from that state or province.

At least one faculty or staff member of that school is a current ILA member.

Please contact customerservice@reading.org for assistance with your award submission.
