

Nancy Steineke

Going Deeper with K-12 Literacy:

Nancy Steineke is a longtime collaborator with Harvey “Smokey” Daniels as both a co-author and a co-presenter. She has been an English teacher for more than three decades, is the author of several professional books and is a Professional Development Consultant at Heinemann Publishing.

Nancy’s presentation will focus on bridging nonfiction Text with visual images and alternative viewpoints. Introducing a topic with visual images can spark curiosity, conversation, greater text engagement. Being able to integrate and evaluate multiple texts presented in diverse formats is a Common Core expectation. Participants will engage with a multimedia nonfiction text set as they view, read, write, discuss, and debate from a variety of viewpoints.
